

My Health is *HOW I SHOW
MY LOVE*

Take care of you for us

Knowing your HIV status is an important part of a healthy sex life and a good relationship

- » If you're starting a new relationship, knowing your HIV status is one way to show your love. And if you're sexually active, HIV testing should be a routine part of your health care.
- » Treatment is available at no cost and can suppress the virus, preventing transmission to partners and improving overall health.
